

ACROLLAM BLANC

Year 2025

Varieties: Prensal and Giró

Winemaking zone: Vi de la Terra de Mallorca

Viticulture: Biodynamic

Climatology: The year 2024 ended with a cumulative rainfall of 216.6 litres during the final quarter, and 2025 began with a warm, dry, and windy January, recording only 15 litres of precipitation.

February brought just 25.9 litres of rainfall, and the onset of spring led to an accumulation of 70 litres during March. In April, barely 13.2 litres were recorded.

May and June followed the same trend, with lower accumulations compared to other areas of the island. May closed with 21.4 litres and mild temperatures, giving way to a warm and dry June. This marked the prelude to a summer characterised by intermittent heatwave episodes.

The harvest began on 11 August, and during the third week of harvesting, 15 litres of rainfall refreshed the vineyards of Felanitx, while 11.8 litres cleared the dust from those in Porreres. It concluded on 9 September, a warm month with light rainfall, which watered the already harvested vineyards with a total of 26 litres.

Vinification: Equilibrium of three techniques for the Prensal: pre-fermentation maceration and carbonic maceration and fermentation with the skins, while for the Giró we opt for direct pressing. Once the different varieties have been fermented separately, we make the definitive coupage, using no sulphurous substances throughout production.

Type of ageing: With the fine lees until just before bottling, adding no sulphites.

Alcoholic degree: 12,5%

ATT: 4.9

Residual sugars: 0,2

Clarification: No

Bottling: April 2026

Market launch: May 2026

Tasting note: Fresh white fruit, fine and delicate, to make it lively in the mouth, with notes of brine and lime.

Comments: "Acrollam" is "Mallorca" in reverse, because we like to do our work in our own way, often "the other way round" from what is customary, escaping from the established canons.

The ACROLLAM BLANC label shows a woman who is searching for her identity femininity, ready to plunge into the sea, ready to live new adventures and to lead changes without relinquishing her personal way of being: without fear of the waves or the storm. A passion for life, for feeling caressed by the salt texture of our sea.

ACROLLAM BLANC share the same image: a mandala formed by concentric figures that suggest the search for perfection in making the different wines, while the perimeter of the circle evokes the return to the cycles of nature, like the vine itself.
